Valley firemen have busy week

CARMEL VALLEY firemen have had a busy week of fighting brush and grass fires, numbering at least two a day. On Wednesday, they were called out six separate times, and some of the squad members who work in town, finally closed their offices and kept vigit at the offices and kept vigil at the Firehouse. Arson has definitely been proven in a number of the cases and the matter has been turned over to the Sheriff's department.

AT LEFT—Flaming trees added to the problems of the firemen fighting the blaze which burned to within 18 inches of units at Blue Sky Lodge on Tuesday last week. Residents are asked to keep an eye out and report any suspicious activities which they might see. The CV Lions Club is offering a $100 reward for information leading to the arrest of the person or persons setting the fires.

MARCIA DAHLE AND MAJOR

Marcia Dahle, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Ben Dahle of Meadows Road will be one of 10 young horsewomen who will compete for the title of Sweetheart of the California Rodeo in Salinas, July 18-21. Her horse, Major, is one of three Palominos which the Dahles own.

Marcia, an active member of the Carmel Valley Trail and Saddle Club, graduated from Carmel High School this June. In addition to her Trail and Saddle Club work, she is also a ardent member of the Carmelo 4-H Club, where she specializes in clothing.

CHOSEN BY JUNIORS

Last year Marcia was the secretary of the Trail and Saddle Club Juniors and was chosen by her fellow members to represent that group as their official hostess. The young people used the same high standards of scholarship, personality and horsemanship in choosing Marcia as are set up by the Sweetheart Committee of the California Rodeo at Salinas.

Then the Juniors went to the Trail and Saddle board of directors and asked if they would sponsor Marcia for the Sweetheart contest.

The Sweetheart of the Rodeo is announced at 2:15 the first day and reigns over the four days of festivities along with the official hostess. (Photo by Eileen Dufur)

An organizational meeting of representatives of various local organizations participating was held Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Corona.

It will be a chicken barbecue, $2.50 for adults and $1.00 for children under 12.

Participating in the planning besides the Coronas, were Chairman Mal Tavaris and Mrs. Tavaris, Fire Commissioner Morden Buck and Fire Chief Chip Collins, Mrs. George Palmer, Chamber of Commerce Pres. Tom Bottaro, Kiwanis Pres. Kevin Walsh and Bill Norton.

Forest Theatre presents free Sunday shows

Sunday afternoon, July 14, at 2 p.m., the Carmel Cultural Commission under the management of Cole Weston will present the second of their free summer Sunday afternoon concerts at the Forest Theatre, Mountain View and Santa Rita, Carmel.

This Sunday's program will be entitled Peninsula Performing Arts and will include the Arabian Knights, a group from the defense language institute led by Ninev Ibrahim, giving a lecture demonstration with instruments and playing Arabian and Middle East Music.

Following this, the Monterey Peninsula Chorus of Barbershop Quartets with 25 singers will give selections of old melodies followed by one or two of the quartets performing singly.

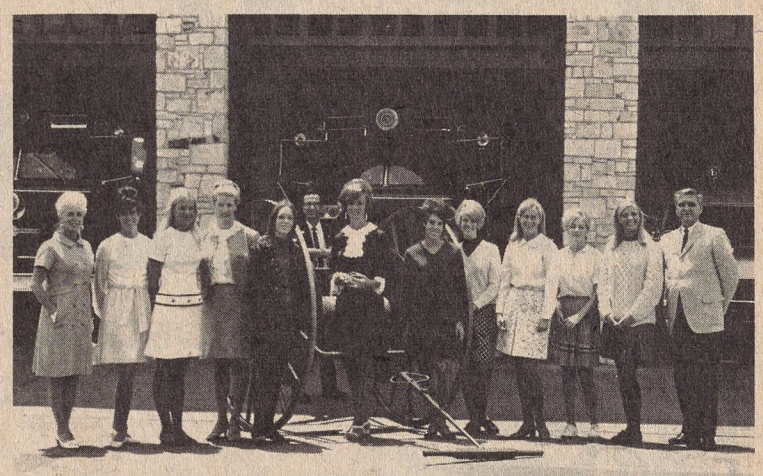
Finally Community Theatre of the Monterey Peninsula, under the direction of Nick Zanides, will present sketches from a number of their most recent plays.

Carmel High School gets 5 year accredidation again

Carmel High School has won back its five year accreditation, according to Dr. Harris Taylor, superintendent of the Carmel Unified School District.

The Accrediting Commission of the Western Association of Schools and Colleges announced the extension from two to five years after reviewing the findings of the committee which spent several days on the campus in April.

The Revisitation Committee extended congratulations to the district for the quality of work that is currently being done and commended the board for the improvements since the original report in March of 1967, which dropped Carmel High down to the two year classification.



THE YOUNG lady who will reign as Fire Queen over the 1968 Hose Cart Races, hosted by the Carmel Fire Department, will be chosen tomorrow night at La Playa Hotel from candidates pictured here, at the Fire Station in Carmel. The Hose Cart Races will be held on Saturday (July 13) at 6 p.m. on Sixth St. between San Carlos and Mission, in front of the Volunteer Fire Station. Members of the Carmel Business Association have donated over a thousand dollars worth of merchandise to be awarded to the Queen and the other entrants. Kiwanis speaker

Research aids military

How military training has been improved through research was described to Carmel Valley Kiwanis Tuesday by Donald F. Polden, deputy director of George Washington University's Human Resources Research office based at the Pa search office based at the Presidio of Monterey.

Of the organization's local staff of 40, about 10 live in Carmel and Carmel Valley, including Dr. H. H. McFann, director; Dr. Joe Ward and Dr. Hilton Bialek, all in Carmel; Dr. Dick Kern, Dr. Jack Taylor and his wife, Dr. Elaine Taylor, Dr. Bob Vineberg, Ben Viljoen, Bob Ray and Polden, in Carmel Valley.

The deputy director pointed out that George Washington University, which is in Washington D. C., launched its Human Resources Research work in 1951 to help analys to help analyze problems of army training.

"It is now one of the largest training and research organizations of its kind in the country," he said, "doing work not only for the military and other government offices such as the Dept. of Health, Welfare and Education, but for industry as well."

He cited one successful example, which resulted in the Army switching target practice from static targets to moving, pop-up targets. Another example was changing Morse code training to suit students of widely varying intelligence, which boosted results 10% for an annual saving of $950,000.

"The Army research budget of $1.5 billion dollars allocates about 2% for people-to people research," he said, "and spends most on people-to-machine research."

Tom Hefling with title company

Tom Hefling, formerly with the Carmel Valley Branch of Bank of America, is now an escrow officer with Coast Valley Land Title Company. Although he doesn't get out to the Valley much any more, he does see a lot of Valley friends in town, Tom told the Outlook.

An escrow officer works on the closing transactions on sales and purchases of property, and Tom has found his banking experience of great value, even though it was centered on the other end of the job.

A popular member of the Valley business community, he had served until recently as manager of the Valley bank since it opened in 1961. While located here he was president of both the CV Chamber of Commerce and the Kiwanis Club.

Tom is a long-time Peninsula resident, having gone through the Carmel School system and graduated from Monterey Peninsula College. Tom, and his wife, Betty, live in the Monterey Peninsula Country Club area of Del Monte Forest.

And Bob Holmes, star of the San Jose State baseball pitching staff, where he just completed his junior year, is teaching golf in Carmel High's program.

EDITORIAL

Arson is a dangerous crime ...and a crime it is!

We don't advocate an eye for an eye, but it might be a terribly good lesson for the young arsonists (and it has definitely been proven as arson) who have been setting the fires in Carmel Valley to get into as close a situation as one of the firemen did on Thursday at the Ford Road fire. To quote fire chief Chip Collins, "We almost lost one of the guys in that one!" when the flames, fanned by the recent high late afternoon winds, roared over the hill and started down the canyon.

Setting fires is neither a childish prank or even a logical "retaliation" against the establishment.

Unfortunately, in spite of parental warnings, kids will play with matches or light forbidden cigarettes out in the field where no one can see...and often this has led to grass fires. The series of fires which Carmel Valley has experienced the past week (Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday--5 of them--and Thursday) weren't the result of accidental smoking incidents. They were deliberately set. Enough people have been watching diligently so that several suspects have been pinpointed.

If it hadn't been for the unbelievable efficiency of the Valley Volunteer fire department, there wouldn't be much Valley left around the Village. The first fire burned to within two feet of a dwelling on Village Drive. The second caused considerable smoke damage at Blue Sky Lodge and came within 18 inches of the buildings. Despite two attempts to burn the field back of the old White Oaks barn, (plus a rekindling of one blaze) this Valley relic was saved again.

The hillside on Ford Road came close to getting out of control, and if it hadn't been for the sharp eyes of Little League officials on Fourth of July, the early morning fire on Paso Hondo could have been big before it was discovered.

The Valley is a tinder box of dryness. Any kid who thinks he is proving his greatness by setting fires is merely showing his stupidity instead...and any adult who is still throwing cigarette butts out the window is doing the same!

PERSPECTIVE

TO THE EDITOR

Thank you to the firemen

The following letter was received by the Carmel Valley Volunteer Fire Department after three days of brush and grass fires. On Wednesday, there were five in the afternoon alone. One burned a number of acres not far from the home of the youthful letter writer.

Letter to the Editor:

I am glad that you live near us. It was pretty hard, on the 3rd of July, when there were 6 fires. I hope that there were no matches found. You got the fire out pretty fast. I hope you found that red nozzle.

I hope you do not have any more fires this summer. Thank you for being good firemen.

CUSD summer recreation program at Tularcitos

" A Day-Before-the-Fourth of July" party is just one of the many things that the 63 children enrolled in the summer recreation program sponsored by the Carmel Unified School District have enjoyed each day at Tularcitos between 1 and 4.

Mrs. Mel Blevins and Miss Mary Brown are second-year instructors for the activities which are open to children between five and twelve.

Instruction is given on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday each week in arts and crafts with classes currently working in paper mache. On the agenda for the future are opportunities in tie and dye weaving and sand casting in plaster of Paris.

Tuesdays and Thursdays of the week are reserved for tumbling and games.

IN SHORT

ROSIE HENRY (Rosie's Cracker Barrel) has been a Valleyite for well over twenty years. Will's Fargo Restaurant has been a Valley restaurant for over ten. The other evening Rosie had dinner at Will's for the first time! The reason...Rosie has a theory...no restaurant is worth its salt until it has been in business for ten years. Rosie gave Will's an A-1 rating (he had abalone) and Will awarded Rosie a good conduct medal.

FOUR EX–WHITE OAKS Theatre players have taken up residence at the Carmel Valley Inn this summer. Linda Boblitt, Leon Leakey, Sheila Jo White and Karen Gjording are presently on the guest list.

The Rhyming Philosopher

Vacation time comes so we crowd in the car
To visit the shops in some distant bazaar.
There's nothing attractive in Homeville, we say,
Compared to the scenery far, far away.

We hurry to that secret spot we just found,
And get close to nature and sleep on the ground,
Or else rent a cabin way out off the road,
And visit the rubes in their native abode.

Unlike many neighbors we left far behind,
There's something distinctive in strangers, we find,
For instance like Mr. and Mrs. R. Hicks
We met up in Localburg out in the sticks.

But also it happens the Hicks like to roam
Away from that wonderful place they call home
To spend their vacations, believe it or not,
In Homeville, which strangely is OUR native spot.

The Hicks keep insisting our Homeville is great Compared to the scenes in their resident state;
Which proves we'd be much better off by a lot
To cherish the talents and beauty we've got.

Carmel Valley plagued by grass fires

FANNED BY EXTREMELY high winds, the blaze on Ford Road started to race down a small canyon, heading towards houses on Story Road. Firemen and helpers grabbed hoses and ran with the truck to head off the flames.

A $100 reward has been offered by Carmel Valley Lions Club for information leading to the arrest or conviction of the person or persons responsible for setting the rash of grass fires recently in the Upper Valley.

Information is to be presented to the CV Volunteer Dept. business office, phone 659-2021.

Fire Chief Chip Collins emphasized the extreme seriousness of the fire danger because of the dryness and afternoon wind.

IN THE CANYON back of Blue Sky Lodge, the flames raced up the hill and set fire to many oak trees. The California live oak, even though green, is very volatile and flames spread rapidly from one to another.

Staff photos

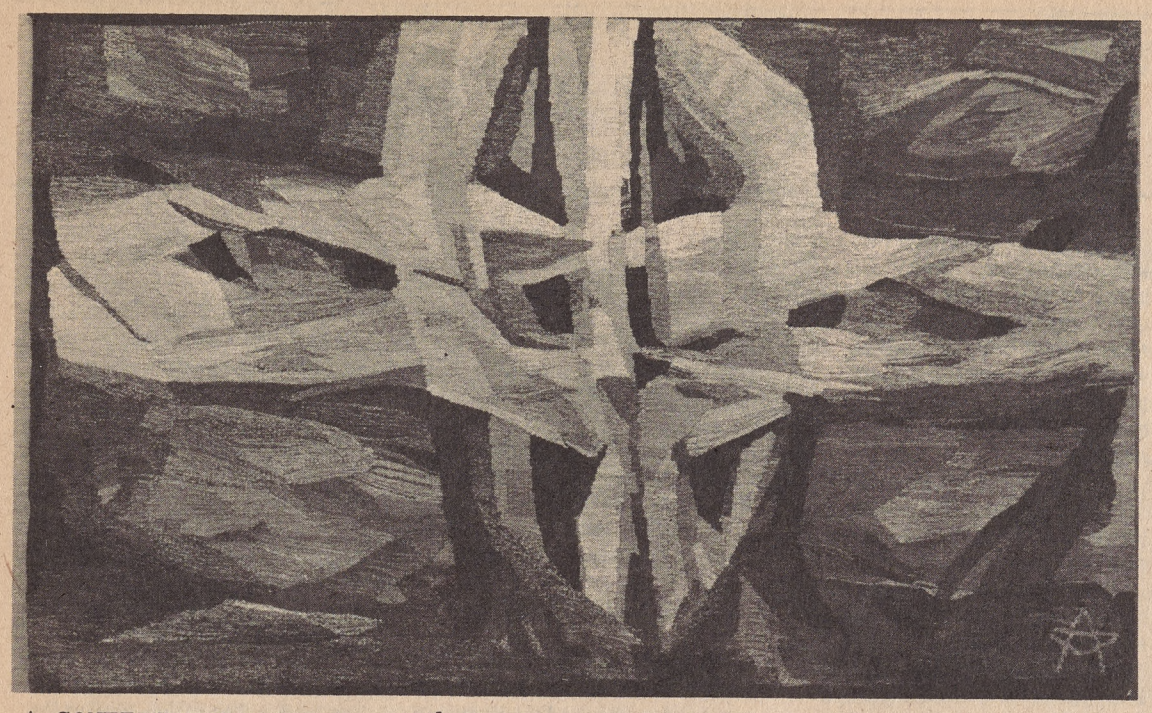
THE ONE TON fire truck with four wheel drive is of tremendous help in fighting grass fires since it can be taken right out across the fields and into tight spots that the big La France can't reach.

Evidence of arson found...$100 reward offered for information

MANY VOLUNTEER helpers with shovels and rakes helped stamp out the perimeter areas that were still smouldering at the fire on Ford Road, Wednesday afternoon.

TWO SEPARATE fires occurred a short distance apart in the field back of the old White Oaks barn. In the foreground are the remains of the first fire, while the trucks contain the second, closer to the barn itself. About 4:30 one of them started up again, calling the weary firemen out for sixth time since 1:30 p.m.

DEFINITE EVIDENCE of arson was discovered at this fire adjacent to the E. R. Oliver house on Village Drive. A short-cut path leading down to Paso Cresta runs through the field, and firemen investigating the blaze discovered that it was set by the trail. Flames, rushing through the dry grass came to within a few feet of the Oliver house and raced through the backyard and threatened to go down the hill in back towards Paso Cresta.



A CONTEMPORARY Tapestry by Fritz Riedel, an Austrian artist and weaver, is one of many contemporary European tapestries on display at the Carmel Museum of Art July 19 through Aug. 18. The exhibit is part of the Hurschler collection, Pasadena, and is sponsored here by the Arts Coordinating Council of Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art Association and American Association of University Women.

Contemporary European tapestries on exhibit at Carmel Museum of Art

A handsome exhibit of contemporary European tapestries will be on display at the Carmel Museum of Art, Dolores near 7th, from Friday July 19 through Aug. 18.

The exhibit is a selection from the collection of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hurschler of Pasadena, and was recently featured in a two-page full-color spread in the Los Angeles Times.

The exhibit has been shown at the Los Angeles Municipal Art Gallery, La Jolla Museum of Art, Santa Barbara Museum of Art and elsewhere throughout the nation.

The exhibition in Carmel has been arranged by the Arts Coordinating Council of Monterey County in collaboration with four of its member organizations, the Carmel Craft Guild, the Carmel Museum of Art, the Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art Association and the American Association of University Women.

Members of the Carmel Crafts Guild will demonstrate the art of tapestry weaving on Saturday and Sunday afternoons from 3 to 4 throughout the duration of the exhibit.

Gallery hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday and 1 to 5 p.m. on Sundays. The Museum is closed Mondays.

The exhibition, a selection from the 100 or more works by artists of ten countries, comprises a contemporary expression of an ancient art form which flourished in Europe. Tapestries adorned only castles, palaces and churches in early days and the art had suffered a long period of decline until about 30 years ago when a revival started in France where, at Aubusson, the first modern designs with fewer and more vivid colors were woven.

Many tapestries in the Hurschler collection are the result of a collaboration between the artist designing it and a weaving atalier executing it by French and Portuguese artists. These were woven at Aubusson and Portalegre. Other works by Polish, Austrian, Czechoslovakian and Swedish artists were not only designed but also woven by the artists.

The show will open Thursday evening July 18 with a public reception from 8 to 10:30, and will remain on view through August 25.

Among the photographers to be represented are several of world-wide recognition, whose works are in permanent collections of most leading art museums. Others are by free-lance professionals and unusually skilled amateurs.

Included will be Ansel Adams, who is president of the unique organization, Friends of Photography; Brett Weston, Vice president; Rosario Mazzeo, secretary; Arthur Connell, treasurer; Wynn Bullock, William Current, Liliane De Cock, Rear Adm. E. C. Forsyth, U. S.N. (Ret.), William Garnett, Richard M.Garrod, Nancy Newhall, Donald Ross, Geraldine Sharpe, William Webb and Albert Weber.

Their work is representative of the so-called "West Coast School", which is different in approach and concept from that on the East Coast. For example, most of the work to be presented in the exhibit is made from 4 x 5 in. to 8 x 10 in. negatives, focussed sharp and clear throughout.

The "West Coast School" has been likened more to contemporary European photography.

The varied exhibit presents a valid cross-section of what is going on in photography today, according to the Exhibit Committee.

UNDER THE OAKS & AMONG THE CACTI

By Mildred Hattan

Mrs. Norman Friddle had just arrived at the Lower Circle home of her mother, Mrs. Mabel Love, for dinner and was instructing her son, Mark, to show his grandmother a new treasure when a voice from behind her inquired, "May we see it too?"

Turning, Jean was overwhelmed to see her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Patterson of Freeport, Pennsylvania.

When Mrs. Love learned that her sister Grace was arriving, she thought it would be fun to surprise the rest of the family. The Pattersons did too, and even hid their car with its give-away Pennsylvania plates. The guests from the East remained for a week visiting with their family and a few of the many residents whom they have met on previous Valley visits.

All were excited about Jean's plans to fly last week to Pennsylvania for the 30 year reunion of her graduating class at Blairsville. It is the first opportunity for her to visit the East since 1960.

A FAMILY REUNION

The delegate from New York State at the recent San Francisco convention of the American Medical Association couldn't have been a better choice, according to his daughter, Patti Blatnik since it gave Patti, Hank and children, Kelly and "J. F.", three days in which to catch up on the three year happenings of Dr. and Mrs. John Kelly.

The Valleyites arranged a very special surprise for their guests from New Hartford by inviting Mrs. Kelly's cousin and family from Visalia to join in the reunion. It had been nine years since Mrs. Kelly had seen Mr. and Mrs. George Gould and their children, Tom and Rick.

More guests signing the summer register at the Blatniks' Hitchcock Canyon home recently were Mr. and Mrs. Norman Buck of Orange, California.

OAK LEAF CLUSTER

"An Old Oak Leaf Cluster" to members of the Senior High group who attended the Vacation Bible School. Not only did they have a wonderful two weeks of study, and crafts with their advisor, Capt. (ret.) Phillip Mothersill, but they also found time to take a little of their enthusiastic (and very pleasing) combination of voices and guitars to the patients at Skyline, Carmel, and Monterey Convalescent Hospitals.

Two additional events enjoyed by the group included the swimming luncheon at the Laurel Drive home of Dr. and Mrs. Toland Doud and an overnight camp-out at Mt. Madonna Park.

In addition to their college counsellor, Scott Sinclair, those attending were: Bob Beckstrom, Paul Bresk, Christine Brill, Laurie Doud, Cynthia Mauzey, Tom Scroggs, and Bruce Zanetta.

VALLEY POT POURRI

Breathes there a soul who has not at some time moved and found something that had been missing for a long, long time? So it was that the Staff at the Thunderbird Shop moved a section of shelves and uncovered ten (gift-wrapped already!) Valley Fare cookbooks. With the third new edition scheduled for publication in November, many Valleyites have been lamenting the fact that they either had given away all of their copies as gifts or just neglected to purchase one til the supply was all gone. Last week's move gives you a second chance, but they will not last long.

There were puzzled expressions on the faces of dog owners (and a few of the dogs) at the AKC Puppy Show held at Sherwood park in Salinas when many of the dogs who arrived to be judged (some from the Valley) had been scrubbed to the nines, but due to an unknown quality (Does she or doesn't she!) in the shampoo, shimmered with a mysterious green glow!...With the exception of her delightful accent no one would ever know just by looking that Thelma Lee wasn't a native born American...that is, except on the

THE BISHOP gets little help, in unravelling the plot, from Beverly Pelton who plays the vicar's wife.

Play review

"See How They Run" is a gem

In "See How They Run" the wacky British comedy which opened Independence Day weekend at the Circle, Miss Ruth McElroy is up to her old tricks of stealing every scene she is in... not because she wants to particularly, but because she is such a terrific actress that she can't help it.

It's a pity that this play requires her to spend a good deal of time either locked in a closet or out cold (she gets into the vicar's cooking sherry) on the floor while various characters leap over her. But anticipation of what she might say when she should pop out or come round was enough to keep us McElroy fans interested.

AN ASSIST from Ida (Betsi Pye) is needed by Ruth McElroy, cast as a sherry-tippling matron. (Photos at rehearsal by Lequita).

In this pseudo-Noel Coward romp of the 1940's by Philip King, Miss McElroy gets a lot of competition from Betsi Pye. As Ida, the Cockney maid, Miss Pye creates a very funny character indeed. She knows exactly "what makes Ida run" and her talent as a comediene enables her to demonstrate hilariously.

A RUMPUS

Edgar Pye, her partner in many a comedy and musical play in the past, here and in England, also has an amusing part in this rumpus. He plays a dignified Anglican bishop, come to visit the menage of a straightlaced young vicar and his nutty American wife and does the bewildered clergyman to a tee.

William Wilson, Jr., is the very picture of Victorian propriety as the vicar even when, through circumstances far beyond his control, he is forced to appear in his under shorts.

Jim Goffard is fine as the third clergyman to enter the picture. He is the gentle Rev. Humphrey, arriving unexpectedly to find himself being impersonated by Denny Denham, a brash American corporal visiting the vicar's wife, and disguised to confound the scandal-mongering Miss McElroy.

And when a Russian spy, played by an appropriately wild-eyed and intense Dean Funk, also dons a back-to-front collar to attempt an escape, that makes five "clergymen" each either trying to conceal or reveal his own identity.

EDGAR PYE plays a benign bishop bewildered by the goings-on at the Merton-Com-Middlewick vicarage in "See How They Run", the lively British comedy now playing weekends at the Circle Theatre.

CONFUSION

A great deal of confusion ensues. But through it all Beverly Pelton, as the saucy wife, manages to remain extremely attractive even during a well executed "fight" scene with Denham.

Jeffrey Jennings has a good bit as a British sergeant who steps in to unravel things in the end to everyone's satisfaction, including the many young people in the audience.

Director Nick Zanides is responsible for keeping the action fast and furious throughout. Other hard-working back-stage personnel are Derek Napier Lawford and William Lewis, production assistants; Ruthie Fry, stage manager; Dave August, set designer; Mabel Craig, costumes; Cathie McEldowney, property mistress.

"See How They Run" continues through July.

Top Western stars to perform at Salinas Rodeo July 18-21

A brilliant array of Western stars headed by Amanda Blake will appear as part of the track program at the annual California Rodeo to be held July 18-21, at Salinas.

Miss Blake, who is being honored for her role of Kitty Russell in the CBS television series, "Gunsmoke," will arrive at each of the four performances in the California Rodeo's newly furbished stage coach.

Other features will include an international trick roping exhibition by Francisco Zamora, of Tijuana, Mexico, and Gene McLaughlin, of Chatsworth, California.

The veteran American rodeo star and the youthful charro will demonstrate the different types of ropes and styles of roping used in the two countries.

Bill McEnaney, Phoenix, Arizona, known as "The King" among trick riders, will add a new dimension of danger to this hazardous art by performing over jumps.

Connie Griffith, Palmdale, California, one of the most daring young horsewomen in the nation, will add thrills to Roman Riding by jumping her team through multiple hoops of fire.

The horse show will include classes for cutting horses, judged by Mr. Ernie Oswald, of Galt, California, and for working stock horses which will be judged by George Scovel, of Gilroy, Calif.

The race program will consist of thoroughbred races, Western cowboy and cowgirl races, barrel races and the return of the wild horse race, which will, for the first time, be run under R.C.A. rules designed for the protection of all animals used in rodeo.

Baroque music to be heard at Mission concert

Baroque Music of New Spain and works of the Venetian composers Andrea and Giovanni Gabrieli will be played at the traditional Mission concert of the 1968 Carmel Bach Festival.

The concert will be held at Carmel Mission Basilica on Wednesday, July 24, beginning at 10 p.m. Sandor Salgo, music director of the Festival will conduct soloists, a chamber orchestra of brass and strings, and the 32-member Festival chorale in this unusual concert.

SEWING MACHINE AND VACUUM CLEANER REPAIRS

Notes from a Carmel cookbook collector

BY PHYLLIS JERVEY

Since Carmel and environs has over 500 women living alone, and many more couples minus their original families, two new cookbooks seem to have been especially written for them.

"Gourmet Cooking for One" by Robert Graham Paris gives all the facts on how to cook elaborately and expensively by and for one' self. It is a glamorous book with dramatic ideas to make dining alone pure joy.

But how many live-aloners would take the trouble to plan, let alone prepare, such fancy fare and then savor it in solitary splendor? It is certainly a challenge for those who live alone and dislike it. No doubt the result would be inviting someone to admire these efforts and share the results every single evening.

"Cooking for Two" on the other hand is more practical and realistic. This informative volume was originally composed with inexperienced cooks--brides or career girls--in mind.

The author, Janet McKensie Hill, had instantaneous success with her concrete suggestions. She says that a working wife should always plan menus on paper and in advance. It is never a snap to run a household and hold down a full-time job at the same time.

Hand-to-mouth food buying is expensive and haphazard meals are boring for you and your husband, father, mother or with whom ever you are sharing your home and meals.

The menu suggestions are simple and follow a fairly standard pattern but show imagination nevertheless. This popular book has been revised and updated time and time again. The latest version is on the press and will soon be on the book shelves at Carmel Valley's "THUNDERBIRD".

This unique rendezvous has now moved to its new location in the remodeled barn at Valley Hills Shopping Center on Carmel Valley Road. "The last of the olde time bookshoppes where they make creeamy cheese cake" has over 500 cookbooks available. While enjoying Corrine Smith's luscious luncheons, you'll have a lark at the Thunderbird.

Instead of giving recipes from these two books for single or double cooking, your reviewer takes gastronomic pleasure in quoting from Narcissa Chamberlain's exquisite "French Menus and Parties" with beautiful photographs by her husband Samuel, who gives 25 sequences to accompany the perfectly contrived regional menus and recipes of Burgandy, Alsace, Normandy or the south of France.

Take, for instance, an unforgettable dinner party 'a la Provencale' which could be turned into a patio buffet a la Carmel.

Tri—County horse men competitition at Salinas Rodeo

In the tradition of the early days of rodeo, the horsemen of Monterey county have issued a challenge to outfits in Santa Cruz and San Benito counties to compete at the California Rodeo in a special tri-county event.

The competition will consist of Western races, one for cowboys and one for cowgirls with entries, both horse and rider, limited to residents, or landowners. of the three counties.

The entry fee is $10.00 and overnight entries will be taken; drawing for races and post positions will be held at the Race office in the barn area at 4 p.m. Wednesday, July 17.

Entries will be limited to ten horses per race. Daily winners will receive merchandise orders of $60.00 for first, $30.00 for second and $10.00 for third.

On Sunday there will be a championship race for winners over the previous three days with a purse of $100 plus entry fees which could amount to a pot of $400.00 if all races are filled daily.

For prize list and entry blank write, Race Secretary, California Rodeo, P. O. Box 1648, Salinas, CA 93901, or phone 424-1203.

White Oaks Theatre plans gala preview of new summer shows

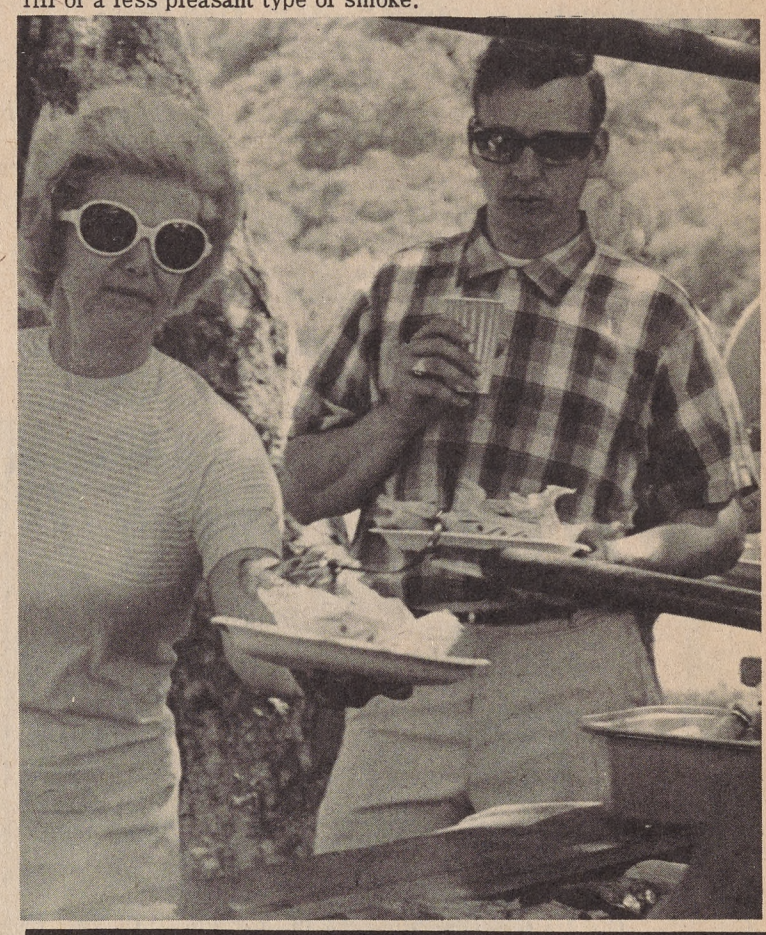
Plans are under way for the White Oaks Theatre prevue gala, set for the evening of July 20 at the Carmel Valley Inn. A joint effort of the John Harrisons of the Inn and the theatre staff and company, the evening will include cocktails, dinner and a sampling of the productions to be presented during the summer musical season at White Oaks.

Following a no-host cocktail party starting at 6, a special prime rib dinner will be served, after which those in attendance will be treated to a "sneak prevue" of songs and sketches from an original musical revue, one of three shows which will comprise the theatre's tenth annual summer season beginning July 25th.

Members of the repertory company who will perform at the gala include several who have been seen in White Oaks summer productions in previous years: John Herzog, Ron Stark, Christine Flynn, John Logan and John Prejean are returning for the summer, while Tony Willis and Siglinde Gierlach will be meeting Valley audiences for the first time.

Tickets for the evening, including dinner and show, may be purchased at Carmel Valley Inn or White Oaks Theatre at $12 per couple. As a 60-couple limit has been set, advance reservations are advisable.

ABOVE—The coaches and umpires put up a good fight at Fourth of July game with the Little League All-Stars, but the boys beat the "old men" by a score of 7-10.
BELOW—Ken and June Van Hagen enjoy the smoke from BBQ grill at the Little League picnic. The day before Ken had been on call all afternoon for the Volunteer firemen and he got his fill of a less pleasant type of smoke.



Carmel artist to exhibit at Town House this month

Mrs. Irving (Lois) Bennett of Carmel is currently showing her paintings at the Carmel Foundation Town House, Lincoln and 8th, weekdays 10 to 5 p.m.

Mrs. Bennett is a native Californian. Born in Berkeley, she studied watercolor under Richard Yip, which led to further study under Ken Morrow, Jade Fon, Jane Burnham, Ralph Baker, Harold Gretzner and others.

Mrs. Bennett recently won two first awards; one in oil at the Stockton Art League's Spring Festival, at the Haggin Museum, the other in watercolor at the Unitarian Fall Art Festival. She took second and third awards with her watercolors and oils at the American Pen Women's Northern California Art Show at the Triton Museum, San Jose.

She is a member of the Pacific Grove Art Association Society of Western Artists and the National Pen Women of America.

Mrs. Bennett formerly owned and operated a gallery in Stockton, which showed the works of 25 well known California painters.

The public is cordially invited to view the paintings during the month of July.

'Wild cats' in Carmel Valley

MRS. CAT AND her four kittens took up residence in a "high rise apartment" in one of the old oak trees near the White Oaks Gallery. She appears to have enjoyed her novel abode for she fed her kittens, balanced on one of the large limbs and taught them the fine art of living in a tree house. The yellow balls of fur with the shining eyes were the friendliest "wild cats" to come to Carmel Valley.

CV Bible School presents program

The Community Summer Bible School closed Friday with a program for parents and friends during which the children had an opportunity to recite some of the lessons learned and to display their skills in crafts; and receive awards.

Rev. Don Johnson presented an award for 100% attendance to the senior high group and beautiful pins,--and to the primary department, who managed to combine both swim lessons and getting to the Chapel on time for roll call.

Participating in the preschool group, led by Mrs. Cal Garner and Mrs. Cleve Harris were Susie Bennett, Sharon Collins, Will Farr, Brett Graham, Karen Harris, Betsy Keith, Bobby Lyon, Jennifer Mathews, and Lisa Thorsen. Mrs. Gary Eldridge and Mrs. William Russell whose kindergarten students sang with Mrs. David mathews were: Laurie Bennett, Dorothy Eldredge, Brooks Garner, Garth Hattan, Tom Hoover, Bobby Jennings, Katie Kern, Wendy Lambert, Ashley Swanson, Lori Marzi, Cynthia Williams, Ralph Verde, and Geoffrey Williams.

Explaining the science experiments which they had enjoyed under the direction of Mrs. Richard Kern and Mrs. William Farr were the following first graders: Carl Bresk, Jan Doelman, M'Liz De Amaral, Steven Draper, Steven Harris, Roy Kaminski, David Lyon, Fawn Nicholsen, Amy Stewart and Jody Thayer.

Second graders gave a dramatization of Job assisted by their teachers, Mrs. Lloyd Swanson and Mrs. Roy Kaminske. Playing the part of Job was Wes Farr, God, by Rogue Hattan, Satan by Mary Kaminske, friends etc., Beth Brill, Billy Bugbee, Gary Condren, Steven Doelman, Ronnie Gayman, Scarlett Hattan, Jeff Johnson, Billy Lyon, Becky Lambert, Sandra Trout, and Shane Hattan.

Lured by a sample of Mrs. Short's famous banana bread, the junior high group was inspired to learn Bible verses with loaves of the delicious bread as rewards! Dr. and Mrs. James Short are always popular instructors with the young people and they had Mrs. Lucky Lawson this year to coordinate the crafts classes. Attending were Ron Bennett, Helena Bresk, Craig Zanetta, Tim Blair, Lisa Brill, Leslie Condren, Robert Dinitryevich, Nick Rauber, Heidi Hattan, Enid Rauber, Tim Ray, Terry Hendrix and Eric Rauber.

SEVEN MEMBERS of the Cypress Swim Club are currently sightseeing in Washington, D.C., following their competition in the Jr. National AAU Outdoor Synchronized Swimming Championships last weekend at nearby Arlington, Virginia. The local swimmers, who won 3rd place in the national competition are, top row: Jan Roehl, Susie Selfridge, and Judy Snyder; middle row: Kathy Neill, Bonnie Banker, and Sharon Roehl; and on the deck: Lindy Doud.

National swim stars to perform at MPC pool next weekend

National stars from the world of synchronized swimming will be competing locally this weekend as the Cypress Swim Club, in cooperation with the Monterey Recreation Department, hosts the 1968 Sr. Pacific AAU Outdoor Synchronized Swimming Championships at Monterey Peninsula College.

With entries expected from the Santa Clara Aquamaids, 1968 National AAU team and duet champions, and from the San Francisco Merionettes, holders of National AAU titles in all events for the past seven years, the meet this weekend will have the flavor of a national championship. Included in the competition will be six of the top ten teams in the nation, as well as all of the top solos and duets.

Preliminary competition in solos, duets, and teams will begin at 9:30 a.m. Saturday, July 13. Contestants placing in the top ten in each category will advance to the stunt competition, and the seven solos, duets, and teams receiving the highest stunt scores will then go into the final routine competition on Sunday at 1:30 p.m.

Representing the local Cypress Swim Club in the meet will be members of the "A" team which recently won third place in the Jr. National AAU team championships held at Washington, D.C. The team, composed of Bonnie Banker, Lindy Doud, Kathy Neill, Jan and Sharon Roehl, Susie Selfridge, and Judy Snyder, will compete with its award-winning routine "Flight of the Swans."

The Cypress Swim Club will also enter its "B" team of Susan Blandin, Laurie Doud, Susan Hooper, Wynn Norwood, Kim Pilkenton, and Lynnda Zarp. Competing for the first time in a senior meet, the "B" team will swim "Cotillion Waltz."

Cypress entries in the solo competition will be Lindy Doud swimming "Eos, the Dawn;" Jan Roehl swimming "Espanolerias;" Sharon Roehl swimming "Shadow of the Wind;" and Susie Selfridge swimming "Delilah, the Temptress."

Fourth of July when she insists on flying the Union Jack! This year even over son Geoffrey's protest ("Ah Mom, can't I just fly the Stars and stripes this one year?") the flag of the United Kingdom caused more than one near accident at Thelma and Dick's residence on Laurel Drive!...

LOST AND FOUND

Having received word that a long time friend from New Jersey would include a stay in the Valley at their home during her visit to the West coast, Dorothy and Larry Feldman of Aliso Road and their son Michael drove to Castroville to pick up their guest, Betty Allesso.

What followed was a hilarious search for 'Lost Persons' since there was no such address in the Castroville area. Finally with the helpful assistance of state maps, directories, the process of elimination and a helpful service station operator they traced their friend to Castro Valley where she was beginning to feel abandoned!

Following a week's tour of our area, the Feldmans drove Betty to San Francisco on Saturday to show her the City and then put her on a New Jersey Flight on Sunday for her home in Saddle Brooks.

VISITORS

Dr. and Mrs. James Short enjoyed a reunion with Mrs. Short's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Hennamann, who spent a week at the Shorts' home on Calle de Quien Sabe. The Hennamanns who are from Seattle renewed many acquaintances made during a winter spent here at the Adobe Oaks.

It would take lots of memory-searching for our print shop staff to list everything we have printed for Valley businesses, just-plain-folks and out-of-town companies.

And that many people can't be wrong. Right?

Why not give us a chance to work for you? We have produced jobs as small as wallet-size business cards and as large as the 20-, 24- or 28-page Outlook you read every week.

And every job receives the same careful workmanship of our thorough experienced staff. What more could you ask--except low prices?

And we have those, too!
